Not Your Grandma's Senior Center

By Jean Perry

There's a new Council on Aging director in town, and on September 30 she spent the afternoon meeting and greeting some of the patrons of the Rochester Senior Center. And if you are of a mature age and never before thought about stopping by, Cheryl Randall-Mach is hoping you soon will.

Through her work with the Association for the Relief of Aged Women of New Bedford (ARAW), and experience working with other local councils on aging, Randall-Mach has become familiar with the council on aging of today versus how they've always been thought of in the past.

To Randall-Mach, senior centers now feel more like community centers as more intergenerational activities become more common. "A lot of the activities are very community-based," she said. "And I think that's wonderful, engaging all people of different generations is important... because seniors are living longer and often you still have that generation gap."

The stigma attached to the perception of a "senior center" is giving way to this new community center ambience as the outdated preconceived notion of "grandma's senior center" is transformed by an aging Baby Boomer population. This next generation of contemporary seniors just doesn't think of themselves as, well, "old," suggested Randal-Mach. The "younger" seniors, she says, "They're more open."

A lot of the activities the Rochester Senior Center offers are geared toward this population Randall-Mach is seeking to attract – especially men who have historically been the minority of the COA crowd – with, for example, group trips to sporting events. As the Baby Boomers age, she said, the needs of the population are changing, resulting in a change of the types of programming senior centers offer.

"We always will look at things like that. Most of our ideas for activities come from the seniors," she said. "It's not your grandmother's senior center anymore."

Every senior center has its own "flavor", said Randall-Mach. "They all have their own unique personality." And Rochester's, evidently, is a good one, given that about 40 percent of attendees of the Rochester

Randall-Mach said it's been a great transition for her into Rochester, and she is excited about the multiple grants coming in to fund future projects and programs. She said she is still investigating some of the ideas for new activities and programs, including a potential social day program for Rochester so residents won't have to travel out of town to other COAs like Fairhaven for these services.

In the meantime, Randall-Mach urges potential new members to come and check out the Rochester Senior Center at 67 Dexter Lane. She said the staff is very warm and welcoming and the door is always open – during business hours, that is, which are weekdays from 8:30 am to 4:00 pm. Breakfast is served at the Ye Olde Breakfast Shoppe every weekday morning from 7:00 am to 9:00 am, operated by the Friends of the Rochester Senior Center and the Rochester Lions Club. You can also register a day in advance for a hot lunch on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday every week at noon.

The Hybrid Tiger Trout

By George B. Emmons

The popular sporting trout, the hybrid tiger trout, is named not because of the tiger-like coloring and zigzag pattern of interlocking markings from head to tail, as illustrated. The tiger is an artificial insemination hybrid crossbreed species from female brown trout eggs fertilized by male brook trout sperm, or milt. The purpose of crossbreeding is to combine the furious bait-taking habit of the brook trout with the fighting hooked fury of the deep-water diving brown trout.

As a sterile hybrid, like the mule offspring of a donkey and a horse, the tiger trout cannot reproduce itself. Consequently, it dictates all its energy to feed and rapidly grow from stocking size to a potential 20-pound trophy within a few years. It is known to be piscivorous (fish-eating) and a good control against unwanted bait populations. It also can be tightly controlled in population as a sterile species.

Tiger trout are produced and stocked locally by the Sandwich State Fish Hatchery just across the Sagamore Bridge in Cape Cod. The tiger trout is stocked in ponds in Rochester, as well as in Plymouth. The Sandwich Hatchery is also open seven days a week, from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm for visitors to view and feed the fish. Similarly, the Berkshire Hatchery, near my previous residence in Western Massachusetts, annually invited visits from groups of underprivileged inner city youth from New York City for overnight camping and environmental education. Each youngster was given fly fishing lessons in our stocked pond. Catching a tiger trout for a youngster was always a trophy prize, but pulling it in was somewhat like having a tiger by the tail.

Wherever they are stocked today, the performance of the tiger trout lives up to its name. It is also increasing in numbers because conservation-minded sportsman use barbless hooks for catch and release so they can grow bigger to be caught again. Hopefully this hatchery-grown hybrid species will continue on to be nationally rated in what I would call the 'Anglers Hall of Fame'. It might rank with the colorful western cutthroat trout that lights and livens up the waters of glacial melts that run like a river through the Rocky Mountains of the Continental Divide Another is the acrobatic surface jumping of the colorful rainbow trout that, in autumn, can annually migrate downriver to the sea and change color to a salty metallic shade with a name change to steelhead trout. And last, but not least, is the Atlantic salmon that became king of the fighting fish kingdom in both Britain and Scotland since the eighteenth century literary publication of The Complete Angler by father of all angling culture, Izaak Walton, and is now enthroned on both sides of the pond. With this article and drawing, I would nominate the tiger trout as a possible member of this distinctive sporting aristocracy.

Macallister Resigns, Applies For Town Administrator Job

Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen

It came as a surprise to Selectmen Jordan Collyer and Paul Silva, as well as Town Administrator Michael Gagne, when, after adjournment of the September 24 meeting of the Board of Selectmen and just before calling executive session, Selectman Tyler Macallister said he had to recuse himself. Macallister then presented the board with a letter of resignation and is tossing his hat in the ring for the position of town administrator.

"It is with great hesitation [that I submit] this letter of resignation effective immediately pursuant to MGL 268A section 21A. I appreciate and have enjoyed the 8+ years we have worked together to make Mattapoissett a better place and wish you the best of luck moving forward. Have a great day!"

In a follow-up, Collyer said he was surprised, but then went on to explain that Massachusetts Law allows an elected official to be considered for employment with the town after a 30 day "cooling off period".

An initial pool of candidates for the town administrator position was selected by a search committee, but the frontrunner for the job went on to accept an offer from another town before the second round of interviews with the Board of Selectmen. Shortly thereafter, the selectmen, including Macallister, decided to start the search again, only this time with the assistance of a professional search consultant to help the town find qualified candidates.

"Nothing would change," said Collyer on the search process. "We have a robust process in place, but no candidates." Collyer said that Macallister would have to follow the process just as other candidates will.

"We didn't expect this," Collyer said. "We are not breaking stride," he said regarding the screening process. While the town will be using a professional search firm, Collyer said it would also repost the job. "We have to do what's best for the town."

"It changes nothing," Selectman Paul Silva told The Wanderer. "We were surprised as we went into executive session."

Silva said Macallister's qualifications would be evaluated along with any other candidates that are advanced for the selectmen to interview.

Gagne said that the Request for Proposals from professional search firms was posted with a deadline of October 10. He said that a decision to select a firm would happen sometime in November.

Gagne confirmed that final candidate interviews are not likely to take place until January. His retirement was to have begun in mid-October, but he will remain in place until a successful candidate is chosen.

Calls and texts from The Wanderer to Macallister elicited the following text response: "I am not commenting on my decision to resign from the board at this time."

As well as serving on the Board of Selectman, Macallister served on the Conservation Commission for five years and also on the Plymouth County Advisory Board.

Macallister was reelected to the Board of Selectmen unopposed in 2017. His term would expire in 2020.

As Marion heads into its fall Special Town Meeting later this month, McGrail said he went ahead and solicited some quotes from various waste disposal companies like Covanta (SEMASS) and the Town of Bourne's integrated solid waste management facility. The article slated for the warrant to allow preliminary negotiations to withdraw is the "first of two votes" the town needs to withdraw from the Carver, Marion, Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal District, of which Marion has been a member since the district's conception in 1973.

Voters would later need to vote again to accept the terms stated in an amendment to the district agreement that would allow Marion to leave.

As the December 31, 2020 expiration of the district's contract with SEMASS approaches, the district has struggled to determine the future of its waste disposal once SEMASS ceases accepting the trash at no cost and no longer reimburses the district for the costs associated with running the district's two transfer stations. McGrail said during a selectmen's meeting earlier this month that he saw little to no benefit in remaining in the district beyond that point, especially given that Marion, unlike Carver and Wareham, provides residents with curbside trash and recycling collection.

During the October 1 meeting, McGrail found another reason to question the benefits of staying in the CMWRRDD.

"Given the unknowns with the district," McGrail said, "...We need to know where we're going to send our trash come January 2021."

McGrail said he received two quotes from Covanta and Bourne and then met with representatives from both companies.

Bourne's offer was "more complicated," said McGrail, since its permitting is still uncertain for a planned expansion of its facilities. Bourne could only commit to a short-term agreement, McGrail said, at $85 per ton of solid waste.

Covanta offered the town $77.50 per ton for the first year of a five-year contract, with a 2.5 percent escalator each year.

"Given the industry right now and the different potential road block in the future as far as trash goes," said McGrail, "I think it would be in the best interest of the board to sign this agreement (with Covanta)."

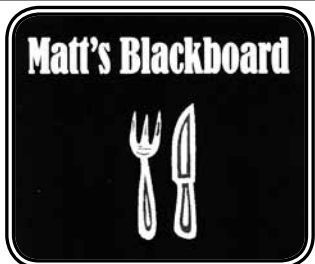

McGrail said that agreement would include an appropriation clause if the town was unable to fund the agreement for any reason, but the price would be guaranteed if the town were to move forward.

"Tonnage price of trash is not going to go down," said McGrail. But if the price of trash disposal does go suddenly soar, he said, "If that happens, we've locked in at $77.50 a ton."

McGrail said he thought that it might be a benefit to remain with the district as a way to preserve purchasing power when seeking bids, but that theory was disproved. As it turns out, Covanta offered the same exact quote of $77.50 to the district as it did to the Town of Marion.

"If we do part ways (from the district), we still are contracted directly with Covanta for the remainder of the [contract]," McGrail told the selectmen.

Also during the meeting, McGrail proposed hiring an assistant director to assist the director of the Department of Public Works. According to McGrail, the long list of capital projects totaling a near $20 million could potentially occupy DPW Director David Willet long-term, leaving him little time to oversee the day-to-day operations of the department. Having someone between Willet and the foremen position, McGrail said, would allow Willet to perform the high-level engineering and project management the board wants him to do.

"Work out the details and the money portion of it and get back to us," said Parker.

In other business, McGrail told the board that talks with Police Chief John Garcia have led to the relocation of the digital speeding sign to Front Street near the Marion Music Hall. The sign will face traffic entering the village from Route 6 to hopefully reduce speeding.

"The chief thinks that the sign has really made an impact on Spring Street with Tabor," McGrail said, "...and would do the same thing in the heart of the village right there."

McGrail announced that there would be an informational meeting ahead of the Special Town Meeting for residents on Wednesday, October 16 at 6:00 pm at the Marion Music Hall.

The Fall Special Town Meeting is scheduled for Monday, October 21 at 6:30 pm at Sippican School.

The Marion Board of Selectmen will meet again

Leonard's Pond Access Path Discussed

Rochester Conservation Commission

By Marilou Newell

The much beloved Leonard's Pond was discussed during the October 1 meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission. Before the commission was a Request for Determination of Applicability filed by the town for the purpose of making improvements to a gravel boat access path and to consider options for making the area ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) compliant.

Speaking on behalf of the town, Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon explained that she has been exploring design options for the access path, everything from asphalt paving to timber planks to simple grading and applying more gravel to the access point.

Farinon explained that the path has been a source of concern as erosion has caused sediment flow into the pond.

"The area needs to be stabilized," she began. She said that the best solution would be "a low-key plan."

Access for people with mobility issues made finding a simple resolution and design rather difficult, Farinon shared. She said that most ADA compliant designs would require the removal of forested bank, something she said made the recreational area special and unique given its undisturbed state.

Continuing on, Farinon suggested the best course of action would be to maintain the access path as it currently exists using dense crushed gravel "to keep it as simple as possible." She said the town wasn't under any time constraints, so if the commission wished, she would continue to pursue design concepts looking for the best fit for the location. The filing was continued until November 5 to allow for more review.

Coming before the commission with a Notice of Intent filing was John and Michelle Vinagre of 7 Ginny's Drive for the construction of a 40x36-foot garage and associated driveway within a 100-foot buffer zone.

Represented by engineer Stephen Chmiel, the project was described as including a 200-foot swale and permanent boundary markers. After Chmiel's brief presentation, Farinon remarked, "The owners have been good stewards of the property." She suggested that a positive Order of Conditions be issued. The project received conditioning.

Also briefly coming before the commission was Sarah Rosenblat of SWEB Development USA representing Rochester Farms LLC and owner Craig Canning. Canning's solar array project has been slowly working its way through the Conservation Commission review process for several months. All that came to a head on this night when the commission accepted the Abbreviated Notice of Resource Area Delineation of 3,850 feet of Bordering Vegetated Wetlands after Rosenblat pointed out the last remaining comments the commission requested on the plan of record. The project received the issuance of an Order of Resource Area Delineation.

Area Delineation was also for a solar array project. The filing of an Abbreviated Notice of Resource Area Delineation by Erica Buster, Quaker Lane, for 10,100 linear feet of Bordering Vegetated Wetlands and 1,600-feet of riverfront area met with approval after Jon Connel of SITEC, Inc. made the final presentation. Farinon suggested the approval and commented that peer review consultant John Rockwell of Marion had spent considerable time in the field making recommendations.

Continued filings were two ANRADs, one for 0 Featherbed Lane and another for 0 Cushman Road filed by Joe Harrison of SunRise Investments. The hearing was continued to October 15.

Also continued until October 15 was an NOI filed by REpurpose Properties for property located at Rounseville Road abutting Plumb Corner.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission is scheduled for October 15 at 7:00 pm in the Town Hall meeting room.

request of Town Administrator Michael Gagne to give a presentation outlining the very large public works project planned for Industrial Drive off North Street.

While Lepore, assisted by Bonne DeSousa, and Highway Surveyor Barry Denham have worked collectively for more than a year on finding grant opportunities to fund Phase 2 of the bike path, the volunteers have also found economic grants and public works grants in the process.

All those funding sources need to be bundled together, explained Gagne, as the town seeks to make roadway and infrastructure improvements to Industrial Drive, the artery that feeds the town's light industrial zone.

Lepore said that during the Fall 2018 and Spring 2019 Town Meetings, voters had approved funding the Industrial Drive's design and engineering studies that brought the project up to 15 percent design completion. She said that a grant was applied for in the amount of $1.87 million that would partially pay for the multi-pronged project. The timeline for this project, she said, includes having final designs and permitting completed by early 2020 with an anticipated construction start date in late 2020 or early 2021.

The private sewer project currently taking place at the business park will allow businesses to tie-in to the public sewer system, thereby freeing up much needed land for future growth in the business district. The full scope of the project as outlined includes sewer, utilities, bike path, and roadway construction. Gagne said that the roadway redevelopment would also fix historic drainage issues along the roadway.

Lepore said the bike path would unite Phase 1b, which is currently under construction, with Phase 2, which is yet to be fully designed. Phase 2 will eventually link to the path still underway in Marion. Bike path proponents, Lepore said, were planning for the day when a recreational path will extend from Providence, Rhode Island all the way to Provincetown.

In the meantime, Lepore pointed out that roadway and infrastructure improvements in the business park will generate new business for the town in the form of tourist dollars and new businesses offering employment at the business park.

The price tag includes the town bonding $1.665M, transferring $500,000 from free cash, and anticipation of grants totaling approximately $2.585M.

Timing was an issue, Lepore pointed out, saying that it made fiscal sense to do all the work at one time to keep costs in line versus doing a project of this size piecemeal.

Lepore suggested bringing this project to the voters during the Fall Special Town Meeting in October.

Gagne emphasized that the cost of the project would not all be funded by town money. He said that economic opportunity grants are available and that conversations with federal grant representatives have been favorable towards Mattapoisett's plan. He also said that members from the Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) have been assisting the town through the economic development strategy process.

Finance Committee member Colby Rottler got to the meat of things when he asked how much a warrant article would be asking the voters to fund. Gagne said $3 million, but not all that would be at once; rather, it would be bonded over time as retiring debt freed up borrowing. Gagne maintained that grants would offset the bond, saying, "We have to spend the money first, then the town gets reimbursed."

Also during the meeting, Denham gave the FinCom details related to bridge construction necessary at an Acushnet Road location. A bridge situated some 800 feet south of Hereford Road is in immediate need of repair.

Denham said the original bridge was built in 1933 for $250, promoting Gagne to quip, "Well that didn't work out bad, then – it lasted 95 years." That gave everyone in the room a bit of comic relief. But the seriousness of the situation was present as Denham handed out a Massachusetts Department of Transportation field report from May 2017 that indicated the bridge was in poor condition with the additional narrative, "...advanced section loss, deterioration, spalling or scour..."

Denham said the town's portion of the project would cost $1.2 million and be funded with a $500,000 grant and $460,000 in future Chapter 90 funds from 2020 and 2021 that would be earmarked to complete the bridge. The balance, Denham said, would come from other sources within the town's budget.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Finance Committee was not yet scheduled as of press time.

ZBA Questions Garage Height in Variance Request

Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals

By Jean Perry

The Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals on September 26 had no issues with Mary and Michael Fitzgerald's variance application to build a single-story barn/ accessory structure when it came to square-footage and its location in the front yard, but the request to allow its height to exceed that of the principal house raised questions.

Mary Fitzgerald said she and her husband were looking for the "perfect property" as they planned for their retirement, and this past June they bought their place at 83 Hiller Road. Variance, over 1,000 square feet in size and in front yard. What they need, though, is a big garage to store all their many belongings, which includes several trailers, a boat with a trailer, a camper, salvaged architectural pieces, a fireplace, table saws, and a tractor. But they also want it to enhance their property and match the style of their house.

ZBA member Richard Cutler thought it sounded a bit like they would be running a business from the residence, but Fitzgerald assured him that they would not.

The board then turned to the three conditions required to justify a variance: unique shape or topography of the land, financial hardship, and whether the proposal would negatively impact the neighborhood. ZBA member Kirby Gilmore suggested the hardship could be that the couple's belongings would be subject to the outside elements.

"Normally the applicant is supposed to tell us what the hardships are," said Cutler to Gilmore who promptly proceeded to point out the topography element of the location of Leonard's Pond preventing the siting of the garage anywhere else but in the front yard.

ZBA member Tom Flynn said he understood the need for variances for the square footage in excess of 1,000 square feet, and the need to locate the garage in the front yard, but he could not find the need for the garage to exceed the height of the house at 33 feet.

"I'm struggling with that," said Cutler.

Cutler also thought building height should be addressed through a special permit.

The plan, however, never specified the height of the proposed garage. Without an engineer's notation on the plan, the board had to continue the hearing to allow the Fitzgeralds to satisfy the board's request.

"That would be a reasonable request," said Fitzgerald.

"My fear is that... we fumble something and it creates a hardship," said Chairman David Arancio.

The next meeting of the Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals is scheduled for October 10 at 7:15 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

ConCom Emphasizes Dune Preservation

Marion Conservation Commission

By Jean Perry

It was a long night for the Marion Conservation Commission on September 25, and one filing proved to be complex due to various discrepancies between the engineer's plan and what is actually allowed under the Wetlands Protection Act.

Kathleen Welch's Notice of Intent contains a variety of activities including an after-the-fact plan to restore 845 feet of the property within the 100-foot buffer of a coastal dune that was altered with fill. Welch's engineer, Dave Newhall, also proposed some invasive species management within and near the dune in addition to a kayak rack, raised planting bed, picket fence, 12'x12' patio, walkway, and landscaping at 82 West Avenue.

Commission member Shaun Walsh pointed out that revisions to the plan now propose a smaller area of restoration – 435 feet – nearly half the size stated in the NOI.

"I'm trying to understand why there's such a major reduction in the amount of area to be restored," said Walsh. He further pointed out that "probably 50 percent of the property" appeared to have been altered with fill brought in to create a lawn, which is not marked on the plan.

"When you file a [Notice of Intent] for a site like this [it is standard] to reflect the area of all the resources that were impacted," Walsh said. "It wasn't just dune or beach.

"That's something that's going to have to be addressed in the record... to reflect the fact that this portion of the site that was jurisdictional was altered."

Walsh wanted Newhall to estimate the square footage of the altered area and pointed out that, without a confirmation letter from the Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program, the hearing would have to be continued. He then turned his attention to the vegetation management plan for the invasive species that included a proposal to either selectively remove or flush cut existing red cedar trees and an oak tree sapling.

"I have a real concern about flush cutting or removing of trees from a coastal dune," said Walsh. The Wetlands Protection Act prohibits the destruction of vegetation that could affect the dune, he said, because the root systems help anchor the dune and keep it from washing away during storms. "It's very concerning to me that there's a proposal to remove vegetation from a dune that might destabilize that, so I would not be in favor of that part of the vegetation plan."

One option is for the commission to approve some parts of the plan while denying others, something Newhall didn't object to.

"In terms of pruning a bush or a tree, that might be something that the commission could permit," said Walsh, as long as it does not adversely affect the health of tree or destabilize the ground.

As for the oak sapling, Walsh said, that stays put. It's just how Mother Nature works, he said. "A seed blew in, a seed took root, and you've got a small oak there now – that's a good thing because, understand that that coastal dune is helping to protect your property and, at some point in the future, there will be a storm that will come up your yard and toward your house and having it protected by a coastal dune is a good thing."

Walsh was still concerned about the red cedars that the plan proposes to be removed and replaced with another species.

"Here's an issue that I have – and not necessarily with you sir – but, I think, with your client," said commission member Cynthia Callow. "I would be hesitant to allow any pruning, trimming, on anything because of the history of this particular project... I understand that fill was brought in. The property owner should know when fill is brought in and I think that the Order of Conditions is not checked properly and I think that is a concern with me.

"Before I would be okay and comfortable with things, we need a letter from Natural Heritage... and we need to make sure that everything is dotted and crossed so that we educate the client so that it doesn't – so things don't happen again. I'm not saying that anything was done on purpose," she continued, "but knowledge is a good thing to have."

The hearing was continued until October 8.

In other matters, the commission had to continue the public hearing for Elizabeth and William Weber Jr., 21 East Avenue, for an NOI to reconstruct a stone riprap boulder seawall starting with toe stones at seaward base and ending with capstones at the top. The commission asked engineer David Davignon to take some time to revise the plan by documenting the correct seawall license number.

The property has already been issued an Order of Conditions for the removal of a small cottage and construction of a larger house.

According to Davignon, the concrete seawall is slumped and casting debris on the shoreline. The plan is to pull out the dilapidated concrete and reconstruct the seawall at a consistent slope. The hearing was continued until October 9.

Also during the meeting, the commission closed the public hearing and issued an Order of Conditions to 22 Cove Street, LLC for a Notice of Intent to subdivide 3.61 acres into three buildable lots off Beach Street and Converse Road. After a series of continuations, engineer David Davignon presented a set of final revised plans featuring some minor changes since the last time Davignon appeared before the ConCom in August. The peer-review engineer issued a letter with comments, and correspondence from the Department of Environmental Protection confirmed that the stormwater design is in compliance with DEP regulations.

The commission issued a Negative 2 determination for the Request for Determination of Applicability filed by Rosemary Kotkowski to install an underground 320-gallon propane tank to fuel a house at 78 West Avenue. The commission lauded the applicant for applying for approval before moving ahead with the work.

Ann Ianuzzi, Kristen Keith, and Christine Assad received a Negative 2 determination for their RDA to treat invasive species in tandem with the Town of Marion at Sprague's Cove at their abutting properties: 9 and 15 Shell Heap Road, and 31 Cove Street. The work will not convene until next year during the appropriate time to treat phragmites.

The project received approval with an Order of Conditions with some special conditions.

In other business, the commission signed a permit extension for the Massachusetts Department of Transportation for the work being done on Route 6.

The next meeting of the Marion Conservation Commission is scheduled for October 9 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Town House.

Further Review Needed For Water Skiing Area

Mattapoisett Marine Advisory Board

By Marilou Newell

Summer may be over, but issues related to where boaters may engage in water skiing and tubing activities in Mattapoisett Harbor are still being debated. That was the case on September 26 when the Mattapoisett Marine Advisory Board met. In attendance was Harbormaster Jamie McIntosh.

Months ago during the July 25 meeting, the MAB discussed the issue of whether or not an area located in the inner harbor near the Shinning Tides beach, locally designated as an area where water skiing could take place, was actually an area the United States Coast Guard (USCG) claims as anchorage space. During that meeting, then Harbormaster Jill Simmons said that the federal designation of anchorage superseded anything done at the local level. The problem associated with water skiing is that of boats exceeding the 25 mile-per-hour speed limit in that location and creating wakes in the mooring field.

On September 26, the issue was again debated. Chairman Carlos DeSousa said he thought that putting a speed restriction would help. But McIntosh said he would be hesitant to do that. There ensued a discussion that included the idea of mandating that water skiers and tubers use the outer harbor area instead of being so close to shore. But McIntosh thought otherwise.

"I wouldn't want to send the kids out there further from shore," said McIntosh. He pondered that maybe a speed restriction would help, but said that even a boat motoring at a low rate of speed threw a big wake. "It requires more study."

McIntosh said that if he has more staff next summer, staff that would be deployed on the water, they could monitor the harbor better. "We could shut it down," if boaters were found creating big wake. With a "significant presence" on the water, said McIntosh, things might improve.

Yet that wouldn't solve the issue of whether or not the recreational space was actually an anchorage area.

MAB member Bob Moore said, "We need to understand the interaction between local, state, and federal law... There has to be a proper reading of those altogether." Moore said he wanted to explore it further and that he wants to find out if there had been any case law that might help clarify the matter.

A USCG designated anchorage area is a place where boats and ships can safely drop anchor.

McIntosh said he would look into the issue.

In other matters, the condition of Long Wharf with respect to its ability to withstand heavy loads such as cranes and oil trucks was discussed. This concern sprang up as the board was talking about boaters placing large containers of fuel on floating docks as they prepared to head out to their moored boats. McIntosh said that practice should be limited to one jerrycan. He said that when large fuel trucks are servicing vessels tied to the wharves, the Fire Department should be alerted in the event a fuel spill occurs.

The problem is related to fuel vapors in the air, which, if concentrated, can explode with the introduction of an ignition source. McIntosh said that if a can of fuel went into the water or if there were a spill from a fuel truck, the Fire Department would be better equipped to contain the spill.

The members then dove into the condition of Long Wharf. McIntosh said, "We shouldn't have trucks or cranes down there."

DeSousa noted that marina operators sometimes pull the masts of large sailboats from boats tied up at the end of the wharf. McIntosh said it was a "judgment call" on the part of the marina whether to pull masts on the water or once the boat was out.

The board concurred that the cranes were too heavy and might be in harm's way at the end of the historic wharf. DeSousa suggested that marina owners be invited to the next meeting of the MAB to discuss the matter.

"We have a duty to tell them they are using it at their own risk," said Moore.

"This will be on my radar now," said McIntosh.

Also during the meeting, McIntosh suggested that the staff needs more intensive training handling the pump-out boat. He said that such training should take place in the spring before the boating season gets underway. According to him, the department is averaging 30 pump-out requests were per week, and that an online form and other pump-out information is available on the Town's website www.mattapoiset.net.

The next meeting of the Mattapoiset Marine Advisory Board is scheduled for October 31 at 7:00 pm in the Town Hall conference room.

be an easy task for the 2019 Bulldogs roster to maintain the same level of success the program has in years past.

Naturally, a significant amount of the pressure falls on the quarterback, Ryon Thomas.

It's the nature of the position.

Well, the junior continues to rise to the occasion on a weekly basis, most recently leading the Bulldogs to a 42-7 over GNB Voc-Tech to improve to 2-1 on the season.

Thomas finished with three scores on the day, rushing into the end zone twice and connecting with Cam Brezinski in another instance.

Following the win over the Bears, Brezinski had high praise for his quarterback.

"He reminds me of Tom Brady a little bit with the way he reads the defense," the senior said. "He gives audibles during the play when we're setting up. He just changes the play based on the defense."

A quarterback couldn't ask for a better compliment than to have his ability to read a defense compared to the Super Bowl-winning Patriots quarterback.

Thomas' coach, however, knows there's still plenty of room for the quarterback to grow, but he feels Thomas is taking the appropriate steps to do so.

"I think he's settling in nicely and he's doing some great things for us," Guilbeault said. "When he makes mistakes, he tries to learn from them... He's doing a good job."

Meg Hughes remains one of the area's top goal scorers in girls soccer. In ORR's last two wins, Hughes has scored five goals. She also logged four assists for the Bulldogs between the two matches.

Old Colony

Thomas Stanton continues to run all over the opposition for Old Colony football. In the Cougars' 43-12 win over Bristol-Plymouth, Stanton set the tone early with a nine-yard rushing touchdown in the first quarter. The running back would go on to score two more times, once in the second quarter and again in the fourth. He finished the game with 126 rushing yards on 13 attempts.

Although Stanton had a dominant game on the ground all around, he actually finished second in rushing for Old Colony. Blake Dennison led the way with 156 yards on 14 carries, averaging 11.14 yards per carry to Stanton's 9.69. Dennison also scored once.

Matt Bumpus and Phil Proctor scored Old Colony's other two touchdowns, finishing with six as a team on the day.

Luke Butler was the low medalist in Old Colony golf's latest match. He shot a 39 against Bristol-Plymouth at Scotland Links, pacing the Cougars to a 6-3 win to improve to 6-3-1- on the season.

News Submission Policy

The Wanderer gladly accepts any and all news and press release items from local nonprofit organizations for publication on a weekly basis. The deadline for submission of news items is Monday at noon for publication in that week's edition. Due to the increasing number of submissions, however, publication of press material is never guaranteed. The Wanderer will make every effort to publish timely news items and announcements as the subject warrants and as often as spacing allows. All press material must be submitted by email to news@wanderer.com, and must be either in a text or Word file. We are not able to retype, correct, or hunt down information to repair incomplete press releases, and we are not able to retype or reformat posters or bulleted lists that are not in readable paragraph form. We cannot accept any handwritten material or news items via telephone, no matter how brief.

Photographs of area events and newsmakers are also accepted and encouraged. The Wanderer accepts well-lit and clearly-defined photographs for publication provided that they include a brief summary of the event or subject. We cannot return photographs. Like news items, the deadline for photos is Monday at noon, and the publication of photographs is also subject to spacing constraints and cannot be guaranteed.

All submitted copy is subject to alterations and/or condensation as space allows at the editor's discretion. All submissions become the property of The Wanderer and are assumed to be submitted for the purpose of publication. Submissions cannot be returned; therefore, please make sure to retain copies.

To the Editor;

DANGER! Rt. 6 MATTAPOISETT SPEEDWAY!

I survived a high-speed rear end collision 50 feet west from Turk's parking lot on September 23, 7:20 am. Thanks to seat belts and air bags and a strong Nissan Rogue, I and my dog survived!

The driver of the high speed vehicle was distracted by her own statement.

Rt. 6 from the North St. traffic lights to the Marion line has had a large number of severe accidents.

The excuse used by officials is that Rt. 6 is a state highway with very little law enforcement on Rt. 6. My advice to all drivers is to wear seat belts and do not be distracted by using your cell phone. Be alert, be safe!

Thanks to the Mattapoisett police and paramedics for their professional, kind attention paid to me and my dog. You did your job!

To the Editor;

Civic Duty in the Trash?

First of all, thank you for your time.

Over a year ago now, a handful of parents, led by our young students, took on the overdue task of implementing recycling and composting in the lunch room of Sippican Elementary School. (Yes, it is 2019 and this is not common practice yet). There were hitches, messes, spills, and learning curves but together the children persevered and, together, they made it work... that is, until a few naysayers hastily shut it down. What happened?

One day, upon inspection, the recycling bins and the compost buckets were overlooked and not sanitized by a new-to-the-process custodial staff. In short, all progress ceased and parents/tax payers were not informed of this decision. Communication was broken. The kids' hard work was discarded and sent to SEMASS along with the compost and the recyclables. Education and civic duty were thrown out with the trash.

However, there was a silver lining to this tripped-up work in progress: Although the students at Sippican Elementary School were never given due credit for their efforts, they did manage to get rid of plastic straws within Sippican Elementary School and neighboring schools also took the same initiative. Bravo, young leaders and future town councilors.

Most remarkable to witness in this tedious process was the seamless transition and growth of our young students. One day they were all habitually grabbing a plastic straw with their plastic utensils and the next day they were foregoing it for the sake of their environment, their futures, and the greater good.

Fast forward to present time. Plastic straws are back. Why did this conscientious small measure of foregoing a plastic straw stop? And, moreover, why this deleterious setback? As of this September, not only are plastic straws back in our children's schools but they are also pre-packaged with a plastic utensil and further wrapped in more plastic waste. Now, omitting a plastic straw is no longer an option. Each child is now forced to include a turtle-choking stick with their utensil. This is a glaring social slap and punishment for our well-informed children, our investment for the future.

Let's please remedy this as soon as possible. Parents and the community are willing to buy the remaining inventory for the sake of our children and our environment because civic responsibility takes precedence over saving a few pennies, especially when young impressionable minds and formative learning are involved. Let's do the right thing. And, thank you to our new principal, Ms. Marla Sirois, for supporting and advocating for our children. Let's now unify our communities to embrace this overdue change: Let's get rid of these insidious plastic straws and work to reduce single-use plastics. Single-use plastic bottles and bags are next, Kids. Keep striving. We've got this.

Sippican Historical Society and half by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Due to the limits of funding, not all of the historic buildings were surveyed, but over 100 were catalogued and photographed. The results of the survey are in digital form on the Massachusetts Historical Commission's website and in four binders in the Sippican Historical Society's office (and at the Marion Town Clerk's office).

Marion (Old Rochester) is one of the oldest towns in the United States, and the Sippican Historical Society maintains an extensive collection of documentation on its historic buildings. The Sippican Historical Society will preview one building a week so that the residents of Marion can understand more about its unique historical architecture.

This installment features 317 Front Street. The building at 317 Front Street is an early example of the Greek Revival style in Marion, probably built in the 1830s. The 1855 Marion map shows that this home belonged to Peleg Blankinship and, by 1879, to Pardon Tripp, a master mariner. By 1903, this house was the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin F. Besse of New York. The Besses lived here until 1910.

The Greening of Marion

Marion's Energy Management Committee

Are you ready for some good news for a change?

Then read on!

The mission of Marion's Energy Management Committee (EMC) is to pursue opportunities to move Marion toward renewable power, conserve energy, and in the process, also save money. As the urgency to address the climate crisis gains prominence and momentum around the world, contributions by local communities are crucial to help move the needle. We thought you'd like to know about your town's recent progress on this front.

Back in 2016, the EMC helped negotiate a power purchase agreement to supply all of Marion's municipal electricity from the wind turbines in Plymouth at a substantial discount. As of this writing, the agreement has saved the town over $275,000.

In 2018, after a four-year effort led by the EMC, Marion achieved the designation of a Massachusetts Green Community, opening the door to substantial grants to pay for improvements to town facilities that increase energy efficiency. The initial Green Community funds are already at work: installing energy-efficient lighting in Sippican School and replacing the fire station's old boiler with a high-efficiency system.

As a part of our qualification process for Green Communities, the town's energy use has been cataloged into an online monitoring system that will track energy use (electricity and fuels) to help identify new opportunities to save energy and to document savings from upgraded facilities.

The EMC initiated and managed the replacement of all the town's street lights with LED fixtures, saving about $16,000/year in electricity costs. A grant through the Green Communities program which helped pay for the new fixtures.

Two town employees are driving new all-wheel-drive, plug-in hybrids whose leases are almost completely funded with state grants, an initiative originally pursued by EMC members. Two more vehicles are on the way.

In collaboration with the Planning Board, Select Board, Town Planner, and DPW, the EMC is leading an effort to identify the town's vulnerabilities to coastal flooding, which poses the greatest environmental threat to our property and infrastructure. A state grant has funded a study of our sewage pumping stations, all of which are threatened by storm flooding.

The previously approved solar project on our capped landfill -- stalled because of insufficient capacity in the electrical grid network -- is being revived with the help of a regional consultant. Stay tuned for news about this project.

If you are concerned about the risks posed by climate change, rising energy costs, and environmental deterioration, please consider joining the EMC team! We are looking for new members who are passionate about continuing our momentum -- as a town and as a country. Please come to one of our meetings to find out more, or contact the Town Planner, Gil Hilario (ghilario@marionma.gov), for more information.

What is a geocaching? Do you want to understand latitude and longitude? Why should you care? When's the last time you spun a globe in your hands or unfolded a map?

How often do you take your automobile's navigation system for granted?

Geocaching is an outdoor recreational activity, in which participants use a Global Positioning System (GPS) receiver or mobile device and other navigational techniques to hide and seek containers, called "geocaches" or "caches", at specific locations marked by coordinates all over the world. A typical cache is a small waterproof container containing a logbook and

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

My dog is a 10 year old mutt. He has been drinking a lot more water in the past 6 months. At first I thought it was because the house was dry through the winter but now I'm not so sure. What's the problem?

A change in the water consumption habits of either a dog or a cat can be an important sign of illness. There are about 15 different disorders such as diabetes, kidney disease and hormonal problems that may present themselves initially as increased thirst or excessive urination. It is very important to discuss you pet's water consumption change with your veterinarian as a delay in diagnosis may result in severe illness.

You can contact Dr. Gould at 508-758-6400 or visit our website at MattapoisettAH.com sometimes a pen or pencil. The geocacher signs the log with their established code name and dates it, in order to prove that they found the cache. After signing the log, the cache must be placed back exactly where the person found it. Larger containers such as plastic storage containers (Tupperware or similar) or ammunition boxes can also contain items for trading, such as toys or trinkets, usually of more sentimental worth than financial value.

If you are interested in learning more about a "worldwide scavenger hunt and its fun factor," then you are welcome to join Moemoe and Sippican Lands Trust on a series of local GEOCACHE hunts on Saturday, October 5 at 10:00 am at Peirson Woods. All ages are invited including families, the young at heart and those seeking a work-life balance. You may be surprised about how easy and fun it is to catch the "Geocaching Bug".

If you plan on attending this walk, then have a smartphone that is fully charged and download the free Geocaching app from Groundspeak (no subscription is required for basic access). The walk will begin at 10:00 am on Saturday, October 5 with a basic introduction session until 10:30 am, followed by a geocache hunt at Pierson Woods for a couple of hidden caches. During this adventure the group will also practice one of the best aspects of Geocaching... "Cache In and Trash Out"... hopefully finding the GZ (Ground Zero coordinates) complete with logbook and possible trinkets. Then the group will Trash out... picking up any litter and trash on our journey to our next target.

Please take extra precautions this year regarding EEE! Please wear appropriate footwear, layers of clothing, bring insect repellent and extra water, pack your kit, and remember to protect your face and head. This exploration of Marion's Sippican's Land Trust properties and some other caching waypoints will be a mix of native outdoorsmanship combined with utilizing the most recent technologies of handheld GPS and smartphones equipped with the Geocaching app.

The COA Book Group will discuss The Woman in the Window by A.J. Finn on Tuesday, October 15 at 10:15 am at the Rochester COA on Dexter Lane. Books are available at the library or bring your own copy. An agoraphobic recluse languishes in her New York City home, drinking wine and spying on her neighbors, before witnessing a terrible crime through her window that exposes her secrets and raises questions about her perceptions of reality.

Just the Facts Nonfiction Book Group will discuss Stranger in the Woods: The Extraordinary Story of the Last True Hermit by Michael Finkel on Thursday October 17 at 6:30 pm at the library. This book documents the true story of a man who endured a hardscrabble, isolated existence in a tent in the Maine woods, never speaking with others and surviving by stealing supplies from nearby cabins, for 27 years, in a portrait that illuminates the survival means he developed and the reasons behind his solitary life.

Cafe Parlez will discuss Melmoth by Sarah Perry on Thursday October 31 at 6:30 pm. A follow-up to "The Essex Serpent" finds Helen, an English translator working in Prague, disregarding an obscure local monster legend before a friend's disappearance reveals that Helen is being watched.

Tables of Content

The Elizabeth Taber Library in Marion is pleased to announce its 2019 Fall Fundraiser Event: Tables of Content, repeating an event that was highly successful in its first rendition in 2018. On Friday, November 8 and Sunday, November 17, generous friends of the Elizabeth Taber Library will host literary-inspired dinners in their homes to raise money for the library's programming and resource expansion.

Each dinner is based on a book the host selects. Your choice of book and date availability will determine where you go. Lively discussion of the book will be the evening's focal point, in addition to meeting new friends and enjoying a delicious meal. Adding a bit of mystery to the event, the location and host are not revealed until a week before the event. You won't know who else is coming to dinner until the night of the event. What fun!

Guests are asked to choose two books from the list, in order of preference. Assignments will be made to accommodate date and book choices to the best of our abilities.

Book list for Friday, November 8 at 6:00 pm:

The Elephant Whisperer – Lawrence Anthony; The Library Book – Susan Orlean; Quichotte – Salman Rushdie; Behold the Dreamers – Imbolo Mbue; The Testaments – Margaret Atwood

Book list for Sunday, November 17 at 6:00 pm: The Moment of List – Melinda Gates; Beloved – Toni Morrison; Cooking for Picasso – Camille Aubray; The Nickel Boys – Colson Whitehead

Tickets are $60 per person and can be purchased online on the library website, elizabethtaberlibrary.org or in person at the library, 8 Spring Street, Marion. Any dietary restrictions should be indicated with your reply. If paying online, please indicate your book choices in the Paypal memo. The deadline for responding is October 18. Tickets are limited so sign up early to ensure a place at our table.

Questions and concerns, including any dietary restrictions, may be directed to Elizabeth Sherry at the library, 508-748-1252.

Author Roxana Robinson at the Mattapoisett Library

Roxana Robinson, author of the recently published historical novel Dawson's Fall, will speak at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library as the first event in the Purrington Lecture Series on Sunday, October 27 at 2:00 pm. Books will be available for purchase and signing, courtesy of Haley Booksellers, and a reception will follow the lecture. For reservations to this free event, call the library at 508-758-4171 or email spizzolato@sailsinc.org

Dawson's Fall, set in 1889 in Charleston, South Carolina, draws on family letters and journals. According to Publishers Weekly: "Robinson bases her formidable novel on the lives of her great-grandparents, exposing the fragile and horrific state of affairs in the American South two decades after the end of the Civil War. Robinson's descriptive and imaginative prose sings; this book is a startling reminder of the immoral and lasting brutality visited on the South by the institution of slavery."

Roxana Robinson is the author of ten books – six novels, three collections of short stories, and the award-winning biography of Georgia O'Keeffe. Four of her books were chosen as New York Times Notable Books, two as New York Times Editors Choices. Her fiction has appeared in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, Harper's, Best American Short Stories, Tin House, and elsewhere. Her work has been widely anthologized and broadcast on NPR. She is the recipient of many awards, the most recent of which is the Barnes and Noble "Writers for Writers" Award from Poets and Writers. She has received fellowships from the NEA, the MacDowell Colony and the Guggenheim Foundation.

The Purrington Lecture Series is sponsored by the Mattapoisett Library Trust and features several notable programs throughout the year. Other events this

Marion Art Center

New Exhibition Opening at the Marion Art Center - The Marion Art Center is pleased to present a new exhibition, featuring paintings by Anne Holtermann and photographs by Nancy Rich. An artists' reception will be held on Friday, October 4, 6:00 to 8:00 pm. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday 10:00 am to 2:00 pm, with extended hours on Thursdays, 10:00 am to 6:00 pm.

The exhibition runs October 4 through November 16.

Nancy Rich "has an innate ability to see the beauty in simple objects and then capture that beauty in a photograph that both attracts the eye and stimulates the imagination. Her subjects range from small wooden boats, to elegant fragments of seashells, to dried seaweed resembling Tiffany glass, and finally, to up-close macro images of colorful marbles and sparkling gems floating through ice and water." Anne Holtermann says of her abstract paintings: "there are inevitable subconscious connections - shapes and forms, color and the constant natural process of the world... I am influenced by the view that presents itself to me whether at a distance or in detail [and] my art is directly linked to visual memory... a heartfelt communication. The simple gestures, the colors that arrive, the forms and shapes - all the elements that play off one another in a harmonious moment that becomes a work of art."

Call for Entries -The Marion Art Center announces a Call for Entries for its annual juried exhibition, Small Works on the Wall. The exhibition runs November 22 through December 18. Artists are invited to submit up to five small works for the final exhibition of the season. Works must be no larger than 144 square inches (approximately 12" x 12") including frame. All works must be available for sale and may be collected by the buyer upon purchase. To apply for exhibition, email up to five images of works to marionartcenter@verizon.net no later than October 25, 2019. Images should represent a cohesive body of work. All submissions will be reviewed by the exhibitions committee and artists will be notified of acceptance by November 8. The drop off window for all works is scheduled on Tuesday, November 19, 10:00 am to 2:00 pm at the Marion Art Center. The exhibition opens on Friday, November 22, with a reception from 6:00 to 8:00 pm.

Please come over to the COA, 465 Mill Street, Marion, to enjoy Wendy Todd Bidstrup, a Marion resident, as she talks about the generous and memorable life of Elizabeth Taber. Looking for Old Oars or Canoe Paddles

The Sippican Woman's Club is looking for old oars or canoe paddles for a fundraiser next summer.

Local high school art students will transform the oars or paddles into distinctive works of art, with each student artists' name on the back. The art teachers at Old Rochester High School deserve credit as they will oversee the project.

In the summer, after being displayed around town, there will be a silent auction. Of course, this all leads to funds for student scholarships. Last year $13,000 was raised and awarded to Marion students. If you have an oar to donate, please contact info@SippicanWomansClub.org

Mattapoisett's Pedestrian Bike Committee

Mattapoisett's Pedestrian Bike Committee is inviting all town residents, and most especially those residing in the neighborhood north of Route 195 on North and adjoining streets, to an informal meeting on Thursday October 3 at 6:30 pm in the cafeteria at Center School. The committee wants to hear directly from residents prior to completing a prioritized plan under the "Complete Streets" program for state funded improvements.

Both this meeting, as well as future meetings focused on other neighborhoods are critical in assisting this committee plan for healthful, safe, neighborhood-based walking and cycling opportunities.

Many concerns have already been brought to the committee's attention from residents of this "North Street North" neighborhood about unsafe walking and riding options in this area. Resident involvement and approval of any proposed changes is being actively solicited and desirable before any changes are planned.

roams the hills of Lockerbie Scotland, looking for her son's remains that were lost in the crash of Pan Am 103. She meets the women of Lockerbie who are fighting the U.S. government to obtain the clothing of the victims found in the plane's wreckage. The women, determined to convert an act of hatred into an act of love, want to wash the clothes of the dead and return them to the victim's families. The Women of Lockerbie is a poetic drama about the triumph of love over hate

Quaker Open House and Historic Graffiti Clues

Curious About Quakers? The Mattapoissett Friends Meeting will hold an open house on Sunday, October 6 at 10:00 am in the historical Quaker meetinghouse at 103 Marion Rd. Members will share interesting facts about Quakers, including the cannibal Quakers of Nantucket. Afterwards, there will be coffee and conversation in the meeting's community hall. Assistive listening system available. Please contact mattquakers@gmail.com for more information.

Speaking of historical, an update to the "historical graffiti" discovered in the fall of 2017 is finally available. About 12 feet above ground, on the trim board of the meetinghouse roof, there's a carving that says 10/10/68 Allen Ashley. However, nobody knew if it was 1868 or 1968 since there were Allen Ashleys recorded to have lived locally in both time periods. Somebody in the area wrote to the meeting and let them know that there was an Allen Ashley who lived in Fairhaven and was a painter and wallpaper specialist who could have carved his name in 1968. Much later, Michael Emmons, an architectural history doctoral candidate at the University of Delaware, happened upon the article online. Mr. Simmons studies historic graffiti for his doctoral thesis. He had this to say: My gut sense, looking at the style of the lettering, is that this is a 20th century graffiti---so 1968, not 1868. Typically, mid-19th century graffiti has a bit more style to it. It was the age of penmanship education, so the lettering usually exhibited serif "fonts" and was less boxy. Also, the date in the format xx/xx/xx, rather than Oct 10, 1868, which seems more 20th century.

MOVIE REVIEW

Snap Shut

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Crawl. Starring Barry Pepper and Kaya Scodelario. Directed by Alexandre Aja. Running time: 87 minutes. MPAA rating: R. Available Oct. 15 on physical and streaming home video.

Acting in the roving-alligator thriller Crawl could not have been remotely fun. The poor leads — Kaya Scodelario and Barry Pepper as a daughter/father pair trapped in a flooded house along with several king-size gators — spend most of their screen time in a filthy, rusty, submerged crawlspace, and the atmosphere looks like a petri dish for tetanus, triple-E, you name it. Crawl is mercifully short at an hour and 27 minutes, but the cast and crew spent weeks in these conditions. Aside from the usual bugaboos about being devoured or drowning, the movie works our fears of the disgusting basement, where things are spawning and living without our knowledge and certainly without our consent. At least your basement doesn't host gator hatchlings — unless, like the folks here, you live in Florida.

A Category 5 hurricane is screaming towards land, and our heroes — Scodelario as a driven varsity swimmer and Pepper as her tough but loving dad — reunite, along with the family dog, in a house soon battered by winds and menaced by rising water. (The levees are gonna break, too.) Aside from a couple of cops and a trio of dumb looters — all gator fodder — Crawl is a two-handed exercise, much like director Alexandre Aja's international calling-card slasher film Haute Tension (High Tension). There's surprisingly little art here, though, just pulpy jolts arriving on schedule. And we don't feel nearly as much for the daughter or the father, however compellingly enacted, as we're clearly meant to. This is Low Tension. We simply aren't convinced that meaningful lives (other than the obvious snacks tossed to the gators to pass the time) are at stake, not even the dog's.

That said, Crawl does pass muster as a minimalist B-movie with money and resources unavailable to its ancestors of the drive-in (Eaten Alive, Alligator, etc.). The alligators are just alligators — they don't stand for anything, and they may as well be sharks or lions or zombies or werewolves.

Aja uses close quarters and an external apocalypse to distill the story down to two people against — well, the elements, death, inner demons. The father is still nursing wounds from when his marriage fell apart after the two daughters grew up and moved away; the daughter puts eternal pressure on herself, straining to live up to Dad's meant-to-be-inspiring assessment of her as an "apex predator" (like an alligator, natch). There's a mother around somewhere, remarried, absent from view. A sister is glimpsed briefly via phone. The daughter has been made a swimmer so that she can swim fast and hold her breath, so as to outpace the gators and endure long periods underwater (if she were a couch potato and heavy smoker the movie would be even shorter). It's all narratively a little convenient (the script is courtesy of brothers Michael and Shawn Rasmussen, who perpetrated John Carpenter's nadir The Ward).

But if you stop expecting Crawl to transcend its low goals as a beer-and-pizza Saturday-night rental, it's a decent crappy time, if a little slick and soulless. The characters' flaws add nothing to the stew; they're just plot points. Aja falls into a repetitive dread-and-release pattern, but he's awfully good at it. Crawl is empty but undeniably well-wrought. What it's missing, for me, is the sticky-floor grindhouse vibe it could have had, given its Florida setting. (It was shot mostly on a massive soundstage in Serbia, and it feels like it.) Perhaps that vibe is gone forever; legitimately attained in the 20th century, it can only be imitated and paid tribute now. In years past this would've been a regional Z-budgeter filmed on Earl Owensby's acres in North Carolina with Vic Morrow as the dad and Claudia Jennings as the daughter. Might've been more disreputable fun then, too. Crawl is fun once or twice removed.

pm and 6:30 to 7:30 pm. Cost is $165. Limited spaces still available in Crafting, Center Stage Kids- Drama, Sport Fit, Portuguese, Center School Robotics and Author's Workshop. Check out all of program offerings at www.mattrec.net.

Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride

The days are getting cooler, the nights a little longer, and hints of that crisp autumn smell are in the air. Fall is approaching, and so is the Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride! Pedal 35, 75, or 100 miles on October 6 and join more than 300 others biking to protect clean water in Buzzards Bay. Registration is open at savebuzzardsbay.org/ride.

At the Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride, you'll get some of the best coastal fall views that New England has to offer: long stretches of windswept beaches, bright foliage, and bogs red with cranberries. All cyclists are fully supported with a free lunch stop, multiple water and snack stations, on-the-road bike mechanics and dinner at the end of your journey.

Whether you're a first-time cyclist or seasoned professional, the Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride is sure to provide excitement, gorgeous landscapes, and an opportunity to experience what makes the South Coast unique. Each cyclist in the Watershed Ride has a fundraising goal that supports the Buzzards Bay Coalition, a nonprofit organization working to protect clean water in communities throughout Buzzards Bay and Vineyard Sound.

This year, with the support of thousands of community members, volunteers and participants, we will raise more than $225,000 to support the Coalition's work on education, advocacy, research, and conservation. Peter Pereira of New Bedford shares: "Cycling is the perfect mode of transportation to enjoy the natural beauty of our region. The Watershed Ride is the perfect opportunity to support the Coalition by doing an activity that I love."

Overlapping routes begin in Little Compton, RI (100 miles), Westport (75 miles), and Rochester (35 miles), with all three converging in Woods Hole for a finish line party with live music, beer, wine, al fresco dinner, and awards ceremony. Team participation is welcome and encouraged! To learn more or sign up, visit savebuzzardsbay.org/ride.

All proceeds from the Tournament go into a dedicated fund to support the cleanup of nitrogen pollution – Buzzards Bay's largest pollutant – in New Bedford Harbor. Bring business associates and friends out to enjoy a day of good cheer on the golf course for a great cause.

For golfers, this event is a rare opportunity to enjoy the private Bay Club's parkland-style 7,000-yard course, designed by PGA Tour professional Brad Faxon in conjunction with golf course architect Brad Booth. With 88 percent of its 625 forested acres preserved, The Bay Club is the only Certified Silver Audubon Signature Sanctuary in Massachusetts.

Scott Zeien, owner of Kingman Yacht Center in Bourne, is returning to the Golf Tournament for the seventh time this year. "This is a wonderful opportunity to play a beautiful, private course of the highest caliber," he said. "When you add that all the players are united in purpose to help preserve our Bay, it adds a level of camaraderie and community to the event."

The tournament is a scramble format with registration and practice at 10:00 am and a shotgun start at 12:00 pm. Registration is $250 for individuals or $1,000 for a foursome. Registration includes 18 holes of golf, greens fees, cart rental, tournament gift, boxed lunches, beer, and snacks on the course, and a lively after-party at

NBSO Opens 2019-2020 Season

The New Bedford Symphony Orchestra and Music Director Yaniv Dinur open the NBSO's 104th season on October 5 and 6, presenting two performances of "Mozart & Mahler" at the Zeiterion Performing Arts Center. The concert program features Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 20 and Mahler's Symphony No. 4.

In the first half, Dinur, a talented pianist, plays and conducts from the keyboard one of Mozart's only two piano concertos written in the minor key. Dinur shared that it will be "a dream come true" to perform the D Minor Concerto with his esteemed colleagues. And in what has become a tradition on opening night, the NBSO performs a Mahler symphony – this time the lyrical and delicate Fourth, featuring Liv Redpath, one of the most promising young soprano leggero on the opera and concert stage today.

Saturday evening's performance is at 7:30 pm at The Z and Sunday's matinee is at 2:30pm. Tickets are $30-$65, with $10 student tickets (not available online). Purchase tickets through the Z box office, 508-994-2900, or online at www.nbsymphony.org. Convenient concert parking is available in the Z garage. Opening night

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Travel plans could be interrupted by the re-emergence of a workplace problem that was never quite fully resolved. Deal with it at once, and then take off on that well-deserved trip.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Aspects favor cultural activities for sensuous Bovines. Attend a concert or an art show. Better yet, create something yourself (a poem, perhaps?), and dedicate it to someone special.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Respect any doubts you might now be feeling about a new situation. They could be reflecting your inner awareness that some essential information might be missing. Check it out.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) It's important to start the new month with as clean a slate as possible. Either complete all those unfinished tasks or pass them on to others who would be more than happy to take them on.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This is a good time to cut down on expenses and tame that urge to splurge. Applying some financial discipline now could help the Big Cat ride out a possible monetary crunch later on.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Money matters are dominant this week. Recheck your accounts and make sure they're up-to-date. Also, pay more attention to personal issues before they become major problems.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might be tempted to employ the same tactics as your adversary, but that could backfire. Better to use the same balanced approach that has worked for you before and could again.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A changing workplace environment could stir up confusion as well as apprehension. Best to ignore the rumors and get the facts. You could find that the changes bring positive elements.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Communication is easier this week with people ready and eager to hear what you have to say. Also, check for possible technical problems before you start your new project.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Aspects favor change for the usually traditional Goat. Opening your mind to possibilities you had ignored could lead you to make decisions you once considered improbable.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Making personal as well as professional adjustments to changing conditions might be easier with more information explaining the "hows" and "whys" of the situations in question.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) With a growing tide of positive reactions to buoy your confidence, this could be the right time to put the finishing touches to your new project and get it well and truly launched.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a gift for setting an example of quiet, calm reasoning in the midst of chaotic conditions.

Marion Codification Committee

The Marion Codification Committee will bring forward more Bylaw Improvements for Fall Town Meeting. In 2016, the Town of Marion hired General Code, a consultant company who specializes in reviewing municipal bylaws for content and conflict. General Code provided some 280 comments on discrepancies, ambiguities, and misplaced items in the Town of Marion bylaws.

The Bylaw Codification Committee, a subcommittee of the Planning Board, has since been meeting regularly to resolve the comments. Similar proposed corrections and improvements have been submitted at subsequent Town Meetings.

For this Fall Town Meeting, another set of improvements to various sections in the Marion bylaws will be provided. Some are filling blank zoning determinations in the Table of Use Regulations, changing titles, removing duplicate sections, adding clarification language, removing wording redundant to the MA Building Code, defining the volume of a building, among

Marion Cultural Council Seeks Local Funding Proposals

Marion Cultural Council is excited to receive online grant applications for individuals and organizations for art and STEM-related projects that will help to enrich the Marion community. Marion Cultural Council has set an October 15 deadline for organizations, schools, and individuals to apply for grants that support cultural activities and proposals for community-oriented arts, humanities, and science programs in the community. These grants can support a variety of artistic projects and activities in Marion – including exhibits, festivals, field trips, short-term artist residencies, or performances in schools, workshops, and lectures.

The Marion Cultural Council is part of a network of 329 Local Cultural Councils serving all 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth. The LCC Program is the largest grassroots cultural funding network in the nation, supporting thousands of community-based projects in the arts, sciences, and humanities every year. The state legislature provides an annual appropriation to the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, which then allocates funds to each community.

For questions regarding the Marion Cultural Council, contact marionculturalcouncil@gmail.com. Online application forms and more information about the Local Cultural Council Program and a list of the council's priorities are available online at www.mass-culture.org/Marion.

fencing is made from wrought iron, very heavy, and in excellent shape. The reason we replaced the fence was because it was cheaper to replace the fence than it was to scrape, sand, and paint the fence.

Some of the fence has been repainted, but most have not. But in any case, one or two sections in your yard or garden or leaning against your house to act as a trellis would look great. The possibilities are endless.

Please call Dana Tripp at 508-728-1403 for pricing and details. All monies generated will go into the Cushing Cemetery treasury for the care and upkeep of the cemetery.

Marion Scholarship Fund

To enhance the education of Marion students, the Town of Marion has two funds. Both funds are supported entirely by donations of generous Marion residents.

The Scholarship Fund awards money to deserving Marion students as they head off to their first year of college. Applicants are asked to submit their transcripts, a list of extra-curricular activities and community service, and letters of recommendations. This year the Scholarship Committee received 13 applications and made the very hard decision as to whom to award the scholarship. If sufficient funds are available, multiple award winners are named.

In the community, the FOTMCOA has provided financial support to seniors in need of such items as a new refrigerator or kitchen stove.

The group also sponsors the monthly COA newsletter "Seasonings," as well as hosting various special event luncheons throughout the year giving seniors the opportunity met up with other seniors for a bit of fun and food, social emotional support enriching the lives of Mattapoissett's senior population.

The fundraising work of the FOTMCOA supports COA programs, education, and other needs for which public funds are either not available or need supplementing.

Due to a decrease in membership, new members are now urgently needed to carry on the mission of the FOTMCOA.

Can you help? If you can share an hour once a month to attend the FOTMCOA meeting or wish to assist in any way possible, please contact Anne Bartnowski at 508-758-4603 or email at annebartswife@yahoo.com.

All volunteers are screened through a CORI (Criminal History Systems Board) check. For more information, please contact Linda Aguiar at 508 748-3570.

Many times, incorrect or missing information causes delays in payment posting. EFT/ACH payments are received and cleared faster than checks issued by banks. The Collector's Office uploads electronic payment files, therefore, improving the accuracy and timeliness of payment posting for customers. In addition to receiving email reminders when a payment is due and a confirmation email after making a payment, customers can sign up for courtesy email reminders.

Advantages of e-Billing and Payment:

- Paying online is faster than mailing a check
- Bills and payment history are kept securely in one place
- No worries about a bill or check getting lost in the mail
- Paying online saves stamps, envelopes, and gas
- Pay your bill from wherever you have Internet access
- Late fees can be avoided with scheduled or automatic payments

A Powerful Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. The favor requested will be granted. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted. Don't mention the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. E.G.

Church Ride Program

Do you miss going to church on Sunday because you are unable to get there? Do you want to go to church, but don't want to go alone? The First Congregational Church of Marion has a church ride program for its Sunday service.

A group of volunteers would like to pick you up on Sunday for the church service and take you home afterwards. The worship service begins at 10:00 am and a fellowship time follows the service. The church has an elevator and is handicap accessible.

All you need to do is call the church office at 508-748-1053 by noon on Friday to arrange for a ride on Sunday. Also, let the office know whether you have any mobility aids such as a walker or wheelchair so that the appropriate vehicle can transport you. We have a team of six drivers who would love to bring you to church. More drivers will be arranged if needed.

We will gladly arrange for this transportation for one week or for every week. Please do not hesitate to call the church office to ask for transportation. Our drivers are happy to transport you - we look forward to seeing you in church.

Red Cross Volunteers Needed

There are many ways our Red Cross volunteers are involved and give back to the community. They help canteen for our brave first responders, keep you hydrated during a local road race or even a Cape Cod Baseball League game on a hot summer day. We have blood service volunteers that help us fill this critical life-saving need for blood. There are opportunities to volunteer to Service to our Armed Forces, Youth Services, and Health and Safety Preparedness, Communication volunteers, Administrative Support – there are so many ways to serve. Our Disaster Action Team (DAT) members help those in crisis: when disaster strikes, the Red Cross is always there. These wonderful volunteers are not only here for our local communities, but for those in other areas of the country and the globe that need assistance – everything from flooding, fires, natural disasters, and more. We are looking for all these types of volunteers, people just like you and me who want to help. Don't worry, we provide training and you will be ready and confident in your skills to serve in the best capacity. We can't wait until you join our Team.

And it's so easy. Simply go online to www.redcross.org/ma/hyannis and click on 'Volunteer' to sign up today for our local Cape, Islands and Southeast Mass Chapter. We serve Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket, Plymouth, and Bristol Counties in Southeast Mass.

Once you volunteer, you become part of an honorable tradition you can be proud of. Sign up today.
